

Privacy statement for suppliers, contractual partners and customers

The following information applies to all companies within the Baumer Group that act as contractual parties to your company in their capacity as suppliers, contractual partners, or customers.

1. Contact details of the data controller and the data protection officer (Art. 13(1)(a),(b) GDPR or Art. 19(2)(a) nFADP)

The data controller is the company with which you entered into the respective contractual relationship. If you wish to contact the company in its capacity as data controller, please use the contact details provided.

You can contact the following address if you have any questions about the data protection: privacy@morgenstern-privacy.com.

2. Purposes and legal basis for processing personal data (Art. 13(1)(c) GDPR or Art. 19(2)(b) nFADP)

2.1. Contracts

Your personal data will be processed for the purpose of initiating and concluding contracts, communicating within the scope of contract processing, invoicing and payment processing.

The legal basis for the processing is Art. 6(1)(b) GDPR (performance of a contract or pre-contractual measures).

The legal basis for the processing is Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR (legitimate interest). Our legitimate interests include, for instance, electronic and more efficient data processing and the optimization of the overall work processes.

Furthermore, we carry out sanctions list checks to comply with various EU prohibitions (such as EU Regulation 753/2011) and to avoid sanctions by the relevant authorities. The legal basis for this processing is Art. 6(1)(c) and (f) GDPR. For this purpose, the "Zerberus" tool from Blujay Solutions Ltd. is used.

Moreover, we will store and process information in accordance with the German Supply Chain Due Diligence Act when selecting suppliers and service providers. For this purpose, we may obtain further information from, for instance, credit agencies and store it. For order processing purposes, we will also process order-specific information in addition to your master data. For business contacts, we also process information, in particular contact details, about our contact persons. The legal basis for this processing is Art. 6(1)(c) and (f) GDPR.

The provision of your personal data is necessary for the conclusion of a contract with us. Failure to provide this data will result in no contract being concluded or executed.

2.2 Credit information

We reserve the right to obtain relevant credit information about you prior to concluding the contract or if circumstances arise that could adversely affect your solvency. If the result is negative, we may refuse to enter into a contract with you.

The legal basis for the processing is Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR (legitimate interest). Our legitimate interest is to assess your creditworthiness and reduce the risk of payment defaults.

3. Recipients or categories of recipients of personal data (Art. 13(1)(e) GDPR or Art. 19(2)(c) nFADP)

Data recipients may include:

- Departments and internal units involved in executing the respective business processes (e.g., marketing, sales)
- Baumer Group companies
- Shipping service providers (for shipping products, letters)
- Suppliers (e.g., in warranty cases)
- Data processors (e.g., IT service providers, software manufacturers)
- Public bodies (e.g., tax authorities)
- Advertising agencies

4. Transfer to a third country (Art. 13(1)(f) GDPR or Art. 19(4) nFADP)

For the purpose of fulfilling the contract or carrying out pre-contractual measures, it may be necessary in individual cases for your personal data to be processed in a third country/abroad, for instance by various companies within the Baumer Group. In principle, this only occurs within the scope of the use of established software available on the market and in compliance with the special requirements of Art. 44 ff. GDPR (either the existence of an adequacy decision by the European Commission or the use of standard data protection clauses) or under the conditions of Art. 16 nFADP.

5. Storage period or criteria for determining the storage period (Art. 13(2)(a) GDPR)

The data is stored for the first time (start of the storage period) when the personal data of the data subject is provided for the first time.

The personal data will be deleted after the expiry of the legal storage obligations, unless the data controller has a legitimate interest in the further storage. In any case, only those data will continue to be stored that are really required to achieve the corresponding purpose.

6. Data subject rights (Art. 13(2)(b) GDPR)

The GDPR and the nFADP grant similar rights. The data subject is therefore entitled to the following:

- Right to information (Art. 15 GDPR or Art. 25 nFADP)

Upon request, the data controller shall inform the data subject whether data relating to them is being processed. The data controller shall make every effort to respond to requests for information promptly.

- Correction of inaccurate data (Art. 16 GDPR or Art. 32 nFADP)

The data subject has the right to request that the data controller rectify any inaccurate personal data concerning them without delay.

- Erasure (Art. 17 GDPR or Art. 32(2) nFADP)

The data subject has the right to request that the data controller erase personal data concerning them without delay.

- Restriction of processing (Art. 18 GDPR)

The data subject has the right to request that the data controller restrict processing.

- Right to data portability (Art. 20 GDPR or Art. 28 nFADP)

The data subject has the right to obtain the personal data concerning them, which they have provided to the data controller, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and has the right to transmit those data to another data controller without hindrance from the data controller to which the personal data have been provided.

- Right to object to unreasonable data processing (Art. 21 GDPR)

The data subject has the right to object at any time, on grounds relating to their particular situation, to the processing of personal data concerning them which is based on Art. 6(1)(e) or (f) GDPR; this also applies to profiling based on these provisions. The data controller shall no longer process personal data unless they can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override the interests, rights and freedoms of the data subject or for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims.

If personal data is processed for direct marketing purposes, the data subject has the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data concerning them for such marketing purposes; this also applies to profiling to the extent that it is related to such direct marketing.

The data subject has the right to object, on grounds relating to their particular situation, to the processing of personal data concerning them for scientific or historical research purposes or for statistical purposes in accordance with Art. 89(1) GDPR, unless the processing is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest.

7. Withdrawal of consent (Art. 13(2)(c) GDPR)

Consent to processing can be withdrawn at any time. The lawfulness of processing based on consent remains unaffected until consent is withdrawn.

8. Right to lodge a complaint (Art. 13(2)(d) GDPR)

The data subject has the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection supervisory authority at any time (e.g., with a supervisory authority in the EU or with the FDPIC in Switzerland).